

Job offer for Associate Professor Position

Medical Research Institute (MRI) of the Tokyo Medical and Dental University (TMDU) invites applications for faculty position (Associate Professor) in the field of Molecular Cytogenetics.

1. Position

Associate Professor

2. Areas of Research

The principal aim of MCG is not only to understand the pathogenesis underlying intractable diseases including cancer and unknown genetic diseases, but also to develop new modalities for diagnostics, therapeutics and prevention through integrative omics.

Recently, we identified novel cancer-related microRNAs relevant to cell death, deregulation of EMT and invasion/metastasis, and have begun to work in their application for novel cancer therapies. Additional areas of interest include the role of epigenetics, autophagy and metabolism in tumor progression and metastasis. We are also doing research for the identification and characterization of genes responsible for multiple congenital anomalies and intellectual disabilities (MCA/ID).

We seek outstanding candidates with a strong background in cancer omics, cell biology and biochemistry or medical informatics.

3. Terms and Conditions of Employment

Full-time position with a contract, which will end on March 31, 2022.

Salary will be determined by the annual salary system outlined by TMDU regulations.

*TMDU supports women scientists, foreign researchers and researchers who have engaged in education and research overseas. We encourage them to apply for this position.
