

ONLINE TMDU International Faculty Development Course AY2020 for Educators

As part of the Project for Promoting Global Dental Education and Research Bases to Southeast Asia, Tokyo Medical and Dental University (TMDU) will offer the International Faculty Development Course (IFDC) with the purpose of introducing expertise in clinical dental education at TMDU and sharing information concerning dental education with those who engage in training dental workforce in Southeast Asia.

The course for clinical, research and dental education offers you up-to-date dental clinical knowledge and techniques that are often publicized in journals or books. This course aims at not only 1) updating participants' dental clinical knowledge but also 2) developing clinical techniques useful for teaching. You will have the chance to actually engage in discussions with your peers and build networks.

IFDC AY2020 has been revised, to an online version.

The new version consists of on-demand video lectures and LIVE session via a web conferencing system by Tokyo Medical and Dental University (TMDU).

STYLE:

On-demand video lecture + Live discussion session via a web conferencing system (Zoom)

GOALS OF THIS COURSE:

1. Gain new dental knowledge and new approaches for future education/treatment/research
