8. Dissertation defense

The examination of dissertations toward doctorate degrees shall be conducted, based on the Diploma Policy, from the perspective of whether the dissertation fulfills the following conditions and demonstrates the degree applicant's high research ability as an independent researcher and wealth of knowledge as its foundation.

【Diploma Policy】

The Program confers the degree of Doctor of Philosophy on students who attain the required credits, pass the dissertation defense and final examinations and can do all of the following:

1. Ability to acquire advanced specialized knowledge, technique, applied skills in the field of surgery and to independently carry out pioneering research activities.
2. Ability to accurately summarize, widely explain and disseminate research results in the fields of surgery and biomedical sciences related to surgery.
3. Ability to identify international issues related to surgical medicine and solve problems from an international perspective; and the capacity to play a leading role in the field of education and research.

9. Judges of the dissertation defense

Dissertation Examination Committee:

5 persons, from MU/TMDU professors and an external examiner, who are approved by the Program Administrative Committee

One of the committee members will be appointed as the chairperson. For those students who have registered at TMDU, the chairperson will be one of TMDU professors. Meanwhile, for those students who have registered at MU, the chairperson will be one of MU professors or external examiner instead.

10. Points for attention

○ Research misconduct

Doctoral theses are to be written in accordance with the Tokyo Medical and Dental University Code of Good Research Conduct. They shall not contain any fabrication or falsification of data or findings, plagiarism in research-related matters, or other forms of research misconduct, and are to be written without outside assistance.

Fabrication: The invention of non-existent data and/or research findings.

Falsification: The modification of research materials, equipment and/or processes; the processing of research findings, etc. such that they are no longer authentic.

Plagiarism: The appropriation of the ideas, analyses and/or analytical methods, data, findings, research papers and/or terminology of another researcher without their consent or without proper accreditation.

○ Required Documents of Confirmation(Document⑨)

When research for a doctoral thesis includes any of the following types of research and it is not possible to confirm that such research has been conducted with the prior approval of the relevant committee, etc., or the research is in conflict with the TMDU Code of Good Research Conduct, the submitted thesis may not be recognized as a doctoral Dissertation.

In addition, in principle, with regards to the research used in the doctoral dissertation, the name of the applicant must be listed as a person conducting the research in the application documents to the relevant committee, etc. (*Required for research conducted by the applicant himself/herself directly). Any serious violation of TMDU's Code of Good Research Conduct will be subject to punishment.

[Types of research in question]

- (1) Genetic recombination experiments
- (2) Animal experiments
- (3) Experiments using pathogenic microorganisms, etc.
- (4) Experiments using specific pathogens, etc.
- (5) Research using human embryonic stem cells
- (6) Research using human induced pluripotent stem cells
- (7) Human genome / gene analysis research
